

REDUCE, REUSE

In a collaboration with interior designer Rebecca Simmons' homeware brand, SÆ-RIMA, edit58 unveils the Patch cushion collection, priced at £195 each. These cushions, made from remnants of fabrics from the design world, boast hand-stitched detailing inspired by a cushion belonging to Rebecca's grandmother. They happily mix in contemporary and traditional spaces while reducing waste and adding a touch of nostalgia.

ARTFUL CUTLERY

Petra Palumbo's eponymous homeware company has drawn inspiration from its Scottish heritage to introduce a delightful new cutlery collection. Combining nostalgia with a modern twist, the Tartan cutlery comes in a four-piece set for £52. You can choose from yellow, pink, green, blue or a mixed set. The pieces are made by skilled artisans committed to minimising their impact on the environment.

TILE TRIUMPH

Ca' Pietra presents its inaugural Artist in Residence campaign, showcasing the Joyous Expressions tile collection in collaboration with Sasha Compton. Inspired by Mother Nature and her childhood on the cusp of the Yorkshire Dales, the collection includes 10 wall tiles, £25 each and two floor tiles, £90.78sq m. Featuring motifs inspired by sunsets and oceans, the tiles offer endless possibilities for playful combinations.

BRAND TO KNOW

A noteworthy newcomer in the world of furniture design is Lemon. Its designs draw inspiration from history, film and art and its philosophy centres around crafting enduring, practical pieces that can be cherished for generations to come. Collaborating with innovative designers from co-founder Kevin Frankental's native South Africa and beyond, its Constant nightstand, crafted from iroko wood, is designed by Yaniv Chen and starts at £2,525. →